

JUDGE STUBBS IS HIT BY I. & C. CAR AND DIES FROM INJURIES

Venerable and Noted Jurist Walks in Front of Traction Coach in Indianapolis.

DEFECTIVE HEARING IS CAUSE

Pathetic Accident Closes Career, During Which he Attained Nation-Wide Reputation.

AUTHORITY ON CHILD PROBLEM

Car in Charge of Motorman Brown of This City and Conductor C. R. Kirkwood of Griffins.

While crossing the car tracks in Delaware street in Indianapolis, opposite the west entrance of the court house, Judge George W. Stubbs of the Marion County Juvenile court, was hit by westbound Indianapolis & Cincinnati Company car No. 308 and fatally injured about 4 o'clock last evening, dying from the injuries shortly after midnight. The car was in charge of Conductor C. R. Kirkwood of Griffins Station and Motorman Leroy Brown of 1015 North Harrison street, this city.

According to the Indianapolis Star the accident happened just as the judge was leaving the court house to go home, and it is thought he did not hear the car on account of his deafness and walked directly in front of it. His death resulted primarily from the nervous shock, his physician said, although the judge was painfully injured. When the judge died there were at his bedside Mrs. Stubbs, his wife, Dr. Albert W. Stubbs, a son, Shelbyville, Ind.; Mrs. May S. Thayer, a daughter, and Lee C. Thayer, a grandson, of Indianapolis. The judge did not recognize any member of his family before he died. Mrs. Charles E. Averill, another daughter, had gone home and could not be summoned in time.

Many persons witnessed the accident in which the judge lost his life. It happened at a time when officials and employees were leaving the court house, and when the street was full of pedestrians. The judge was caught unawares by the car and was thrown to the track before he could make an effort to escape its path. That he was caught by a guard was all that saved him from being ground to death instantly under the wheels.

He was rolled for a distance of eight or ten feet in front of the heavy car before Motorman Brown succeeded in bringing it to a standstill. Bystanders quickly carried the judge to the court house lawn until an ambulance arrived to remove him, at his own request, to his home.

The family physician was in doubt about the outcome of the injuries from the beginning. No bones were broken, but it is believed a concussion of the brain resulted and possibly internal injuries. Judge Stubbs' body was terribly cut and bruised and the muscles of his legs were stripped from the bones. One of his arms was badly mashed and there were several serious wounds on his head.

It was first feared that the judge's skull had been crushed, but this proved untrue. One of his eyes was also injured in such a manner that doubt as to whether the sight could have been saved is admitted.

Immediately following the accident the judge lost consciousness, but regained his faculties just before being carried to the ambulance. He expressed the opinion that he was fatally hurt and begged the ambulance attendants and police officers in charge to take him home instead of to the hospital.

Judge Stubbs was one of the most widely known men in Indiana and the news of the accident spread rapidly.

Motorman Brown of this city, in charge of the car, was distracted with grief and could hardly continue the run with his car. When he arrived here last night at 5:42 on the return trip after the accident, he was so nervous that he could scarcely control himself. At that time he wished to be relieved. When he returned with his car from Connorsville at 7:09 last night another motorman was placed on his car and he was allowed to go home. Before leaving, he recited the details of the accident to Will Frazee, claim agent for the company, breaking down and crying like a child.

According to Brown, together with numerous witnesses, Judge Stubbs walked directly in front of the car, apparently being in deep study as he stepped off the curb and started across the street. Motorman Brown said the car was running slowly and he tried to stop it. After crossing Washington street the bell was sounded and the motorman says he noticed Judge Stubbs starting toward the tracks but believed he would stop Brown says he shouted a word of warning, reversed his controller and threw his hands over his face. Judge Stubbs was almost in the middle of the track, the fender striking his legs. The headlight struck his head at the same time and his body was rolled for some distance. Realizing what he had done, Brown was so unnerved that he stood in his car with his hand over his face and witnesses say they called to him several times before he noticed them. When officers arrived to question Brown he wept like a child.

When bystanders reached Judge Stubbs' side blood was flowing freely from two wounds on his forehead. It was believed he had been killed. His clothing was nearly stripped from his body.

The scenes following the accident were touching. Many friends of the judge struggled through the large crowd that had gathered to reach his side. Two former comrades in the civil war were among the first to reach the judge, and during the wait for the ambulance tried to give him courage.

"Why, comrade, you've been in worse places than this and pulled through and you must brace up," said one of the men as he brushed a tear from his cheek and attempted to support the judge, who was in a sitting posture. Men, women and even children, who at some time during their lives had profited through the kindly spirit of Judge Stubbs, crowded about to give some word of encouragement.

Judge Stubbs had been decidedly unfortunate with respect to accidents, this being the third time he had been struck by a car. Several years ago, while he was hunting, a shotgun was discharged accidentally and his right arm shot away.

Relatives at the Stubbs' home, including Mr. Thayer, the grandson, and Attorney Averill, expressed the belief that a defect in Judge Stubbs' hearing was probably responsible for his walking before the car.

Judge Stubbs had a peculiar habit when upon the street of walking with his head slightly lowered and apparently in deep study. W. R. Shiel, H. R. Gardner, both witnesses, and also among the first to reach Judge Stubbs' side, say he left the sidewalk and, without looking, walked in front of the car.

BUYS SOME RARE CHICKENS ABROAD

A. P. Walker Receives 112 Silver Gray Dorkings Which Were Purchased in Esher, England.

HAS FORMED AN ASSOCIATION

Hugh McGowan of Indianapolis, Two Local Men and Two Danville Men Will Raise Them.

It seems very evident that A. P. Walker, cattle fancier and proprietor of the Jersey Isle stock farm, located four miles west of the city, where the annual Jersey cattle sales are held, which attract buyers from all parts of the United States, is to become a chicken fancier. While on the Jersey Isle this winter he bought a number of fancy chickens, which, he, together with a number of other prominent men in Indiana, who have formed an association, will raise.

Yesterday Mr. Walker received by express one hundred and twelve chickens of the Silver Gray Dorking strain. They were bought by Mr. Walker in Esher, England, while he was abroad this winter on a cattle buying tour. The chickens were shipped in crates and are as large as turkeys. Many of them are more ponderous than the largest gobbler that ever graced a Christmas dinner table. The chickens are a beautiful silver gray in color.

The chickens will be divided equally among J. M. Amos, living south of the city, Hugh McGowan of Indianapolis, I. N. Parker and L. G. VanNysse of Danville, Ind., and Mr. Walker. The five men have formed a Silver Gray Dorking Association and will devote some time and money to raising the fancy chickens. The strain is said to be very valuable and uncommon in the United States. There is only one other raiser of Silver Gray Dorkings in the United States, the stock being more common in England. The members of the association will raise them for show purposes.

Mr. McGowan is president of the Indiana Union Traction company and is a great chicken fancier. He is greatly interested in this particular strain and hopes to raise some fine specimens.

LONG ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Mrs. Percy Binford, 34 Years Old, Passed Away Last Night in Carthage.

BURIAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Percy Binford, thirty-four years of age, died last night shortly after midnight at her home in Carthage. Mrs. Binford had been ill for some time suffering from Bright's disease and yesterday she grew suddenly worse and the end came rather unexpectedly. She is survived by her husband, two brothers and one sister. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the residence, conducted by the Rev. C. O. Whitley. The remains will be taken to Paris Crossing, her former home for burial.

The population of Japan is increasing at a rate of about half a million a year.

VISIT SCENE OF BRUTAL MURDER

Attorneys in Noble Case go to Decatur County, Where Albert Sprague Met Tragic End.

LOOKING FOR MORE EVIDENCE

Lawyers For Defense Expected to Visit Scene of Murder Today And Get Notes.

On next Tuesday in the Rush county circuit court the details of the murder of Albert Sprague, the Decatur county farmer, who met a tragic and pitiful end on the seventeenth day of last July, will be aired in all its morbidity, says the Greensburg News. Already the attorneys that will handle the case in which Ben Noble, confessed slayer of Sprague, will fight to either save his neck from the noose, from life-long imprisonment in the State penitentiary or a sentence in the State's institution for the criminally insane, are preparing every bit of evidence ready to present in prosecution and defense.

Friday morning the Rush county prosecutor, Dennis O'Neil, who will be assisted by Ralph Spangh, prosecutor of the Decatur and Bartholomew circuit, and James Cox of Columbus, accompanied by George W. Bruce, who was deputy for Decatur county when the dark deed was consummated, paid a visit to the former home of Sprague, in an effort to find material that will be used in behalf of the State's case.

It was announced Friday that Mr. Bruce, who is familiar with many details of the foul murder, had been retained on the side of the prosecution. Friday afternoon Attorney John Osborn, who with Ben Smith of Rushville, have been appointed by Judge Blair to defend Noble, accompanied by another Rushville attorney planned to visit the place of the murder, but later postponed their trip until Saturday.

These attorneys are preparing, in spite of the fact that Noble has on two arraignments pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree and signed a sworn confession that he committed the deed, to make a desperate fight to save the man from the gallows. It is understood that Noble's attorneys will present his case before the jury as to the man's sanity. Many witnesses have been subpoenaed from Decatur and Bartholomew counties and the case, which may last for days, promises to be the most sensational that has occurred in southeastern Indiana in years.

The crime for which Ben Noble will be tried hardly needs repeating, for it is still vivid in the minds of the people of this county, who learned of the foul deed that hot July

O. C. NORRIS WILL ATTEND

District Meeting of Red Men in Richmond.

O. C. Norris, Great Sachem of the Red Men's Iodge, will attend the district meeting to be held in Richmond next Wednesday. Richmond is making great preparations for the event and it is expected that between 1500 and 2000 delegates will attend. Present indications are that the event will exceed any other of its kind ever held. The business sessions will be held in the lodge rooms and in the evening a parade with all the delegates in uniform will be the feature.

FAST CONTEST GOES TO LOCALS

Madison High School Basket Ball Team Gives Rushville Hard Fight, But is Beaten.

THE FINAL SCORE IS 15 TO 10

First Half Ends 6 to 4--Both Teams Play Sensational Ball, With Bebout the Star.

The Madison high school basket ball team gave the locals a hard fight in their game last night and for a time it looked as though they would win. But Rushville managed to nose out a victory, the final score being 15 to 10. At times the playing of the locals was ragged and at no time during the game did they show the form they had exhibited in former contests.

The game started with a rush, the locals being the first to score. After the first goal had been made, Madison seemed to improve and it was a fight to a finish for every point scored. The only department of the game in which Madison was weak, was throwing of foul goals. Holghauser, their star forward, missed several chances from the foul line. During the entire contest they only registered two points from free throws.

At times the contest became so fast that it was impossible to call all the fouls committed, but as a whole the contest was comparatively clean. Rushville played a fast game, the work of Bebout shining above all others. At one time during the first half he dribbled the ball from one end of the floor to the other, completely bewildering Madison. The first half ended 6 to 4 in Rushville's favor.

The last half was a battle royal, each team fighting until the finish. The half began by Madison making a field goal and thus tying the score. From here on Rushville played as they never played before to keep from being defeated. Kirkpatrick, the diminutive forward on the local team played in tough luck this half, missing several easy shots. During the few remaining minutes of the play, the locals scored two field goals, clinching the contest by a score of 15 to 10.

Bebout and Wileoxen scored all of Rushville's points, the former making 11 and the latter 4. The teams lined up as follows: Madison, Holghauser and Lyons, forwards; Miller, center; Thomas and Flora, guards; Rushville, Kirkpatrick and Cameron, forwards; Bebout, center; Wileoxen and Petry, guards. Field goals, Holghauser, 3, Lyons 1, Bebout 4, Wileoxen, 2. Goals from foul, Bebout 3, Lyons 1, Holghauser 1.

In the curtain raiser the Sophomore team defeated the Freshman, 7 to 5.

FLOYD WIDBY SUCCUMBS

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Widby Passes Away.

Floyd Widby, the five-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Widby, died last night at eight o'clock at the home of his parents in Carthage. The cause of his death is given as lung fever and pneumonia. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Christian church. Burial will be in Barrett cemetery.

morning. Albert Sprague, a thrifty, industrious farmer, well liked by his neighbors and known as a man that loved his home, was shot to death by an assassin as he lay asleep by the side of his wife. The murderer had used a shot gun and the mortal wound was inflicted at an hour of the night when even nature sleeps. Ben Noble, employed by Sprague as a farm hand and the only man that it looked possible could commit the deed, was accused of the crime. At first he strongly asserted his innocence, but later in the Marion county jail made a signed confession as being Sprague's assassin. He was arraigned in the Decatur court two times and pleaded guilty, but a jury could never agree on a verdict, and the case was venue to Rush county. Whether or not Ben Noble is the fiendish murderer of his former employer, the deed will always be a black spot on the history annals of this county and the recollection of a widow's grief and the awful position of two little orphaned girls will never be obliterated until justice as recognized by the State of Indiana has been declared.

TO HOLD MASONIC INSPECTION THEN

RESUMES DUTIES IN LEGISLATURE

Representative Nathan Weeks Returns to Indianapolis After Being Home on Account of Illness.

WILL REMAIN UNTIL CLOSE

Representative Nathan Weeks, who has been ill at his home in this city, suffering from heart trouble returned to Indianapolis yesterday and hopes to remain until the close of the session. Mr. Weeks made an effort to attend last week but became worse and was forced to return home after being there one day. Local people have wondered why Mr. Weeks had not been voting on the measures in the House and it is explained by his illness.

* WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT * * THE USEFUL OLD DADDY. *

"We happened in a home the other night and over the parlor door saw the legend worked in letters of red, 'What is home without a mother?' Across the room was another brief, 'God Bless our Home.'

"Now, what's the matter with 'God bless our dad?' He gets up early, lights the fire; boils an egg, and wipes off the dew of the dawn with his boots, while mother is sleeping. He makes the weekly hand-out for the butcher, the grocer, the milkman, and baker, and his little pile is badly worn before he has been home an hour.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPS

For Mother and Children.

Hundreds of tired mothers and sickly children were given fresh air and rest during the past summer by the Salvation Army at its fresh air camps.

There are many tired mothers who have sickly children who were not fortunate enough to be given such an outing and we ask those mothers as a duty to themselves and their children to read the two following letters:

Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Lathorp, who has done so much good among the children of New York City, says: "Little children seem to delight in taking Vinol. In my work among the destitute sick, I give Vinol in many cases where it would be impossible to give cod liver oil in any other form, on account of the extreme weakness of the patient's stomach. I have known Vinol to restore appetite and infuse new life in many cases of sick women and children when everything else failed."

Mrs. C. W. Stump, Canton, Ohio, says: "I wish I could induce every mother who has a weak, sickly child to try the delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, as it restored health and strength to our daughter after all else failed."

Vinol is a boon to weak mothers and sickly children. If it fails to give satisfaction we will refund your money. F. B. Johnson & Co., Drug-gists, Rushville, Ind.

Old Senator's Alma Mater Incensed At His Vote.

Springfield, Ill., March 4.—The state senate investigating committee has resumed its inquiry into the bribery scandal and the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate by the last legislature. Members of the state assembly are incensed at Senator Shelby Cullom for his action in voting to allow Lorimer to retain his seat, and it is probable that before the legislature adjourns a resolution will be presented condemning him.

Mt. Morris college, at Oregon, Ill., which always has honored United States Senator Shelby Cullom as one of its most distinguished students, has turned his picture to the wall and taken his name from the roll of those who have reflected honor on the school as a result of his vote to allow William Lorimer to retain his seat in the United States senate.

UN-AMERICAN MOVEMENT

This Is What Illinois Miners Say of the "Boy Scouts."

Springfield, Ill., March 4.—The boy scouts movement was denounced by the Illinois Mine Workers in a resolution presented by the secretary-treasurer, Duncan McDonald, and adopted unanimously. Mr. McDonald declared the boy scout movement was a scheme to force an era of un-American militarism upon the nation. It was decided by an almost unanimous vote of the miners to hold their 1912 convention at Springfield.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

WAR CLOUD APPEARS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Paraguay Has Aroused the Ire of Argentina.

London, March 4.—A dispatch to the Times from Buenos Ayres says that the situation arising from the seizure of three Argentine ships by a Paraguayan vessel is grave. The Argentine envoy, who has been sent to Paraguay, will on his arrival, give twelve hours for the restoration of the ships. Failing to receive satisfaction, Argentina will enforce her claim. A war with Paraguay would not affect Argentine trade.

SHOT IS FIRED DURING HAZING

Student of University of Texas Fatally Wounded.

LEGISLATURE INVESTIGATING

An All-Day Struggle Between Sophomores and Freshmen Wound Up Late at Night in an Attempt to Take Student From His Room—During the Struggle a Brother of Congressman-Elect Was Fatally Shot.

Austin, Tex., March 4.—Grady Calloway of Comanche, Tex., a sophomore student in the state university and brother of Congressman-Elect Oscar Calloway of Fort Worth, was shot and probably fatally wounded late last night. With other students he was trying to force his way into a room occupied by John R. Anthony of Grand Saline, Tex., a freshman.

Anthony was arrested, charged with attempted murder, and released on $500 bond. The tragic affair was the finale of a contest that had been going on all day between the sophomores and the freshmen. Many of the latter had been hazed, and Anthony was one of the few who had escaped. The sophomores, led by Calloway, were trying to take him from his room when the shot was fired. Calloway is said to be dying.

The legislature has ordered an investigation of the hazing that has been going on at the university.

MIDNIGHT TRAGEDY

Vigo County Farmer Called to His Door and Perhaps Fatally Shot.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 4.—Called to the door of his home near midnight by a man who gave the name of Johnson, John Gulley, a farmer living near here, was shot and probably fatally wounded.

Deputy Sheriff Watts later arrested Township Trustee Willis Sappington, against whom a report was recently filed in the state board of accounts, alleging a shortage in his accounts. Gulley is said to have made an affidavit against Sappington and in a statement to Deputy Watts declared he recognized the voice of the man who called him to the door as that of Sappington. Watts also went to the Sappington home and found a shotgun which had recently been fired and was empty.

Gulley is declared in a serious condition. The charge from the shotgun fired at him entered the abdomen, some of the shots striking his son Charles in the legs. Sappington is held in jail here, but refuses to discuss the shooting.

GRAFTING ALLEGED

Indictments Stir Things Up at East Chicago and Indiana Harbor.

Hammond, Ind., March 4.—After thoroughly investigating the charges of graft and corruption in East Chicago and Indiana Harbor for four weeks, the Lake superior court grand jury returned thirty indictments. Among the men indicted are Mayor A. G. Schiefelker of East Chicago; Albert Lewis, his chief of police; Walter Spencer, city clerk of East Chicago, and Julius Friedman, alleged graft collector, who is said to have stood at the head of the combine which protected vice.

A CLEAR LOSS

Champ Clark Says Good-By to a Bit of Easy Money.

Washington, March 4.—If there is an extra session of congress, Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, the Democratic speaker-elect, will lose $9,000. Mr. Clark has signed contracts for ten weeks on the chautauqua lecture circuit at $900 a week and expenses. He planned to start out from Philadelphia on Monday and talk his way to the Pacific coast and back, but if the session is to begin on March 15 he will just throw up his hands and say goodby to the $9,000.

Arrested at Marriage Altar. Mattoon, Ill., March 4.—Fifteen minutes before William Falthaus of Shelbyville was to have been married to Miss Nettie Crystal he was arrested for the alleged theft of a bicycle last September.

Out of Work and Despondent. Terre Haute, Ind., March 4.—William Ogan, a brakeman on the South-eastern road, committed suicide. Owing to slack traffic, he had been out of work and despondent.

ASSESSOR MAY BE KNOCKIN' NOW

Callers, Working For The Township May be Expected to Appear at Any Time.

QUESTIONS FEWER THIS YEAR

Real Estate as Well as Personal Property Will be Appraised—List of Queries Shortened.

The township assessor and their deputies began their annual spring work this week. Seventy-five days are allotted the assessors in which to complete their work.

The present year is regarded as an important one by the authorities owing to the fact that the quadrennial assessment on real estate will be made. The usual assessment on improvements to real estate, personal property and poll tax will of course be made.

The list of questions has been cut from 75 to 50 this year reducing the work of the assessors fully one-third. The reports will show stock on hand crops raised and the average prices secured.

As the law designates March 1 as the basis for all assessments, all personal property, including money, notes, bonds, except government, state, county and municipal bonds, which are possessed on that day, must be listed for taxation. All improvement bonds issued under the Barrett law, such as street, sewer, etc., are taxable and must be listed.

Personal property of any description held in the name of a wife is taxable the same as the personal effects of the husband.

Each person owning or harboring a dog shall pay immediately to the township assessor $1 for each male dog or spayed female dog and $2 for each additional male dog or spayed female dog. A penalty of not less than $5 nor more than $20 is prescribed for violation of the dog law.

The price at which grains, seeds, hay, meats, provisions, live stock, wood, bicycles and other valuables in the personal property lines should be listed upon the tax schedule has been determined and each assessor has been furnished with a printed list that there be no departure whatever from the figures and that each appraisal will be perfectly uniform. The county board of review has authority to make a reduction of 20 per cent on this class of property, should such procedure be necessary for the purpose of equalization, but this matter will be left for the board to fix up and after the schedules have been completed.

Foley Kidney Pills

"Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy I ever used as it quickly stopped a severe cough that had long troubled me," says J. W. Kuhn, Princeton, Nebr. Just so quickly and surely it acts in all cases of coughs, colds, lagrippe and lung trouble. Refuse substitutes. F. B. Johnson & Co.

DANDRUFF AND ITCHING SCALP YIELD TO THIS TREATMENT.

Why experiment trying to drive the dandruff germ from underneath the skin with greasy lotions or fancy hairdressing when druggists everywhere and in Rushville the Wolcott Drug Store will guarantee ZEMO and ZEMO soap to entirely rid the scalp of the germ life that causes the trouble.

ZEMO and ZEMO soap can be obtained in any city or town in America and are recognized the best and most economical treatment for all affections of the skin or scalp whether on infant or grown person. One shampoo with ZEMO soap and application of ZEMO will stop itching and cleanse the scalp of dandruff and scurf. Application of ZEMO and use of ZEMO soap will cure the most obstinate case of eczema or skin disease.

We invite you to try ZEMO and ZEMO soap and if not entirely satisfied we will refund your money.

Syracuse Plows Carload of Them

These plows are used by some of the best farmers in the county. Albert Leasure has 10 of them, Frank Cross has about the same number, and William Anderson has 12 or 14 of them.

We have Gang and Sulky Plows, nothing better. They have the best jointer made on earth today. It puts all the truck in the bottom of the furrow.

I have about 2000 of these plows in the county now, and this is no lie. Call and see them before you buy your plow this spring.

The French Cabinet has resigned for the fiftieth time in 40 years, but that's nothing compared with our troubles with the hired girl.

The Lorimer case gave the Democrats the unusual opportunity of being virtuous and of manufacturing a chunk of political capital at 'one whack.

Meat prices have dropped 14 cents at Kansas City under last year, and one can look a hog in the face without being reminded of the chasm between rich and poor.

The House has approved New Mexico's constitution, but we don't feel sure that our debutante sister will not bring her short skirts and sage brush ways to her coming out party.

The Socialists among the Mine Workers force John Mitchell out of the Civic Federation. To keep in with them one would need to wear a hungry look and cuff a plutocrat or two daily.

The Houston Post's plan of finding Dorothy Arnold is to put all the spring hat models in a window and watch it. We amend by tagging them all, "$5 marked down from $10."

Senator Bourne charges President Taft with intimidating Congressmen by controlling patronage, but he should consider whether any other possible means of influencing Congress is open to the President.

The Columbus Republican says that after all the liquor interests of the State are getting no more from the Democratic Legislature than they were entitled to, if the result of the late election can be taken as indicative of the wishes of the voters in the premises. Few voters cast ballots for Democratic senatorial or representative candidates under the belief that such would not stand by the party's platform. Some may have imagined that once elected the Democratic members of the General Assembly could be influenced to vote to retain the county option law, but such now see how visionary was the idea. The restoration of the saloon throughout the "dry" territory of Indiana is wholly the fault of so-called temperance advocates but who put their Democracy ahead of any consideration for the thing they so persistently clamor for theoretically.

The Democratic Gerrymander.

(Connersville News.)
 It would appear from the reports of the Democratic caucus on Congressional re-apportionment that the Honorable Finly Gray has "put one over" on his Democratic brethren in the way of shaping the Sixth Congressional district.

Mr. Gray recently announced publicly his aversion to a "gerrymander." Did he really mean it? Of course he was opposed to have his district changed in accordance with the original Cravens bill, but how is it now under the caucus agreement?

A gerrymander is a division of a State into districts so that the party in power will be given an advantage. It gets its name from Gerry, who first planned to outwit the majority in this way. A division of districts is supposed to be made so that the districts will be of compact and contiguous territory and as nearly equal as regards population as possible. The part of the rule "as possible," refers to the number of voters, not to the convenience of any Democratic candidate.

Right here is where Finly "put one over." He got rid of Decatur county for several reasons—one of which may have been to "gerrymander" Tom Davidson of that county, out of running for the Republican congressional nomination a year hence—when this district already has many thousand less than one-thirtieth of the population of the State. He prevented additional representation for Marion county that has an unrepresented excess equal to something like a third of a district, or vastly in excess of the shortage of population in the Sixth. The fair way would have been to add another small county to the Sixth, instead of taking one away, and add the excess of the population of Marion county to a contiguous district already sufficiently short of population.

As it is, the caucus bill makes the Sixth district farther from a lawful district than it already is and does it for a small partisan advantage—which is nothing in the world but a Gerrymander. Evidently Finly's anti-gerrymander talk was a good deal like his statement that he didn't know whether he would ever again be a candidate for congress.

UPHOLDS TOM'S CONSTITUTION

Finly H. Gray Sees Merit in Plan to Submit Document to People For Adoption.

DISCUSSES PROPOSED DRAFT

Says it Will Save Expense of Calling Constitutional Contention And Confusion Incident.

Finly H. Gray, congressman-elect from the Sixth district, sees merit in the plan for presenting a new state Constitution before the people for their rejection or approval. Mr. Gray made the following Statement in regard to the proposed draft and the plan for placing it before the people.

"I am in favor of the bill to submit to the people the reform amendment to the Constitution. This bill may not be the way every man would seek to authorize the enactment of reform legislation, but it is one way. Only one way can be pursued at a time, and good lawyers say this is a valid and legal way.

"It is true there is a desire between good lawyers as to the manner in which these proposed changes to the Constitution should be submitted. Many questions respecting laws already passed by the legislature and long acted upon by the people are in like dispute.

"The Constitution does not provide how a new Constitution shall be inaugurated. It does not authorize the legislature to call a constitutional convention. Yet, without this power expressed in the Constitution none of the opponents of the reform amendments will carry their logic so far as to deny that such power exists without being expressed. If the legislature has power to call a constitutional convention to propose a Constitution without express authority it may well exercise other powers not expressed, including power to propose a Constitution to the people to adopt or reject.

"A rigid adherence to the position taken by the opponents of the reform provisions to defeat the bill would preclude even a constitutional convention and make an unworkable rule, relief from which no suggestion is offered.

"Evidently the proposed manner of effecting the change was induced by a purpose to avoid the expense to the state attending the calling of a constitutional convention and yet in a way to obviate the confusion resulting from submitting the new provisions in the form of many separated and disconnected amendments. The bill should be passed and its legality, now in dispute, left to the courts, the same as other legal questions in controversy.

"It is insisted in opposing the proposed manner of submitting these amendments to the people that the people should be given the right of initiating the amendments as well as the right to adopt or reject them.

HOW TO GET RICH.

The men who are rich today, were, in nine cases out of ten, poor in early life. Their earnings were at first very small, but their expenses were still less. The difference, was carefully saved, deposited in some safe place, and made to yield interest, and thus foundations were slowly and securely laid for large accumulations. It is in this way that the money has been raised to pay for the comfortable dwellings owned and occupied, in so many cases, by the industrious, sun-bronzed and hard-handed artisans and farmers of our county and State.

"Luck," "good fortune" have much less to do with it than many imagine. When a man begins to spend less than he makes "good fortune" begins.

Our savings department was organized for the purpose of receiving small savings and on these we pay 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually.

RUSH COUNTY NATIONAL BANK.

This is no doubt a good principle to be followed where the extent of the new provisions warrants the calling of a wide constitutional convention and a statewide election for the choosing of delegates. But, while the proposed amendments are in the form of a new Constitution, they are in effect only amendments, and small in part in comparison to the whole Constitution.

"The same claim for the right of the initiative could be made with equal force for every single amendment proposed, and yet no one is insisting that the right to initiate and propose is so vital that a constitutional convention should be called to propose each single amendment to the Constitution. No one has ever objected to the legislature initiating and proposing amendments and certainly those who are opposing the people initiating and proposing ordinary legislation on the ground the people do not know best what they want will not be seriously shocked by the failure to call a constitutional convention at great expense to the State to give that principle effect.

What We Do Not Know.

Whether Rushville is to enjoy her annual clean up day this spring.

It is a very scarce matter to be conceited enough to have perfect faith in yourself, but the hardest task comes when you attempt to make other people view it in the same light.

Didn't mean to be peevish.

Mayhaps Johnson became cross, because Cross was cross—and again, perhaps Cross was cross because he was crossed.

We feel very sorry for New Castle. The Courier there says that Rushville will look funny wet and will feel funnier. We believe that New Castle is perfectly competent to judge on that particular subject, since a newspaper there published a story yesterday, accusing the prosecutor of taking a "nip" at ten cents "a throw" back of the prescription case.

A certain newspaper says "the peaches are in peril." If any peach who is in peril will kindly send us a night letter or will notify us in any other way, we will be able to supply the necessary gallant.

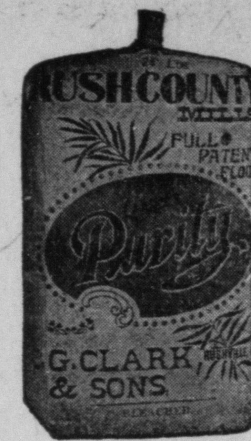

Greens will soon be ripe. The frost has not injured the crop this year.

That leads us to remark that Darwin may have a "bum steer" and that the human race evolved from the hog rather than the monkey.

You don't eat greens? You're sensible.

New Castle Courier vouchsafes (great little word, aint it?) that Rushville gets its census by mail and it comes higher. We believe this high business should be carried out in every phase of the daily grind.

When you clean house finish your floors with Floor-Lac. You will be pleased. Oneal Bros. 306126

All four of the men were held in the Marion county jail, while Noble was there for safe keeping and when, it is alleged, that he made the confession and pleaded guilty to the crime.

DECISION GIVEN IN SUIT

Case Sent to Henry County From Here.

Judge Jackson occupied the bench in the circuit court a short time on Thursday morning and made several rulings, says the New Castle Times. In the replevin suit of Owen L. Carr against Brumfiel, replevin brought here from Rushville and heard some time ago, the court found for the plaintiff and that the value of the property was $150. The court also decided that the plaintiff was entitled to immediate possession of the property.

AMUSEMENTS

The Star Grand will present a Reliance film tonight entitled "A Plain Tale." Jealousy and suspicion cloud the domestic horizon, but the sky is soon cleared by love and truth. A simple story, pleasingly interpreted and acted by the Reliance all-star stock company. Clarence T. Eward will sing the illustrated song entitled "Underneath the Wishing Tree."

The Palace will have a Selig picture tonight. The subject is "The Buccaneers." It is the story of a pirate ship, plying on the high seas. The picture shows the daring deeds that pirates used to do. Besides this, there is a pretty romance woven in the story, which adds to the interest. Earl Robertson will sing a new illustrated song.

The Vaudet will present a picture of human interest in the Thanhouser film, entitled "Their Child." It is the story of a wife who ruins her husband through extravagance and then borrows money for the family's use from a gentleman friend. The husband finds this out and in a fit of jealousy leaves her, taking their child with him. It is through the child that the couple is united again. The other film is an Eclair, "The Carmellie." It is a religious drama. A new illustrated song will be sung.

Rouge Et Noir

A Little Business Romance of the Banana Trade

By O. HENRY

(Copyright by Alnae Magazine Co.)

By the time the van of the procession had reached the government building, Captain Cronin, of the S. J. Pizzoni, Jr., and Mr. Vincenti, member of the Vesuvius Company, had landed and were pushing their way, bluff, hearty and nonchalant, through the crowd on the narrow sidewalk. Clad in white linen, big, debonaire, with an air of good-humored authority, they made conspicuous figures among the dark mass of unimposing Costaguans. They penetrated to within a few yards of the steps of the brown stone building Casa Moreno, the Brown White House of Costaguana. Looking easily above the heads of the crowd, they perceived another that towered above the undersized natives. It was the fiery poll of Dicky Maloney against the wall close by the lower step, and his broad, seductive grin showed that he recognized their presence.

Dicky had attired himself becomingly for the festive occasion in a well-fitting black suit. Pasa was close by his side, her head covered with the ubiquitous black mantilla.

Mr. Vincenti looked at her attentively.

"Botticelli's Madonna," he remarked, gravely. "I wonder when she got into the game. I don't like her getting tangled with the women. I hoped she would keep away from them."

Captain Cronin's laugh almost drew attention from the parade.

"With that head of hair! Keep away from the women! And a Maloney! Hasn't he got a license? But, nonsense aside, what do you think of the prospects? It's a species of filibustering out of my line."

Vincenti glanced again at Dicky's head and smiled.

"Rouge et noir," he said. "There you have it. Make your play, gentlemen. Our money is on the red."

They ceased talking, for General Pilar had descended from the first carriage and had taken his stand upon the top step of Casa Moreno. As the oldest member of the cabinet, custom had decreed that he should make the address of welcome, presenting the keys of the official residence to the president at its close.

Holding in his hand the gilt keys of Casa Moreno, he began his address in a historical form, touching upon each administration and the advance of civilization and prosperity from the first dim striving after liberty down to present times. Arriving at the regime of President Zarilla, at which point, according to precedent, he should have delivered a eulogy upon its wise conduct and the happiness of the people, General Pilar paused. Then he silently held up the bunch of keys high above his head, with his eyes closely regarding it. The ribbon with which they were bound fluttered in the breeze.

"It still blows," cried the speaker, exultantly. "Citizens of Costaguana, give thanks to the saints this night that our air is still free!"

Thus disposing of Zarilla's administration, he abruptly reverted to that of Olivarra, Costaguana's most popular ruler. Olivarra had been assassinated nine years before while in the prime of life and usefulness. A faction of the Liberal party led by Zarilla himself had been accused of the deed. Whether guilty or not, it was eight years before the ambitious and scheming Zarilla had gained his goal.

Upon this theme General Pilar's eloquence was loosed. He drew the picture of the beneficent Olivarra with a loving hand. He reminded the people of the peace, the security and the happiness they had enjoyed during that period. He recalled in vivid detail and with significant contrast the last summer sojourn of President Olivarra in Puerto Rey, when his appearance at their fiestas was the signal for thundering vivas of love and approbation.

The first public expression of sentiment from the people that day followed. A low, sustained murmur went among them like the surf rolling along the shore.

"Ten dollars to a dinner at the Saint Charles," remarked Mr. Vincenti, "that rouge wins."

"I never bet against my own interests," said Captain Cronin, lighting a cigar. "Long-winded old boy, for his age. What's he talking about?"

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

Bargrove and Mullin, Druggists.

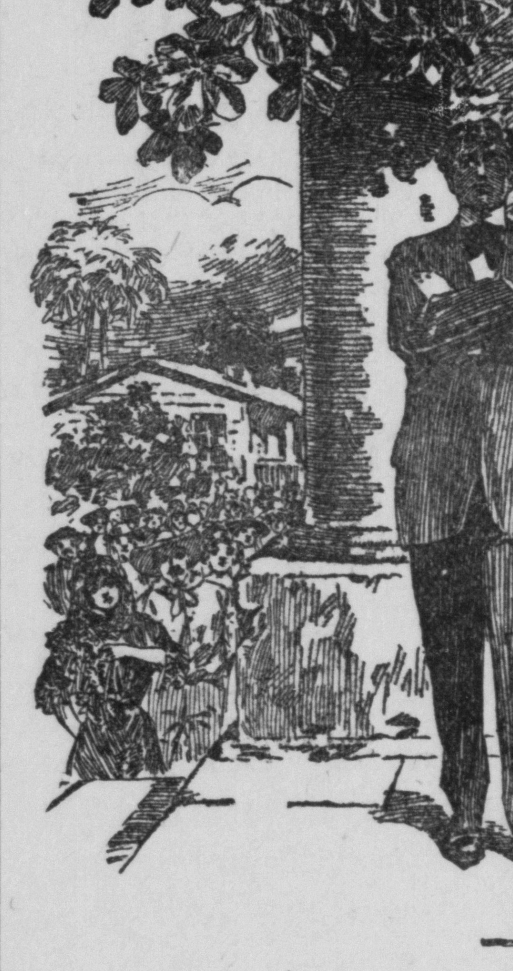

"My Spanish," replied Vincenti, "runs about ten words to the minute; his is something around two hundred. Whatever he's saying, he's getting them warmed up."

"Friends and brothers," General Pilar was saying, "could I reach out my hand this day across the lamentable silence of the grave to Olivarra 'the Good,' to the ruler who was one of you, whose tears fell when you sorrowed, and whose smile followed your joy—I would bring him back to you, but—Olivarra is dead—dead at the hands of a craven assassin!"

The speaker turned and gazed boldly into the carriage of the president. His arm remained extended aloft as if to sustain his peroration. The president was listening, aghast, at this remarkable address of welcome.

"Who says that Olivarra is dead?"

"Shall I Deliver Them to Enrico, Olivarra's Assassin, or to His Son?"

suddenly cried the speaker, his voice, old as he was, sounding like a battle trumpet. "His body lies in the grave, but, to the people he loved he has bequeathed his spirit—yes, more—his learning, his courage, his kindness—yes, more—his youth, his image—people of Costaguana, have you forgotten the son of Olivarra?"

Cronin and Vincenti, watching closely, saw Dicky Maloney suddenly raise his hat, tear off his shock of red hair, leap up the steps and stand at the side of General Pilar. The minister of war laid his arm across the young man's shoulders. All who had known President Olivarra saw again his same lion-like pose, the same frank, undaunted expression, the same high forehead with the peculiar line of the clustering, crisp black hair.

General Pilar was an experienced orator. He seized the moment of breathless silence that preceded the storm.

"Citizens of Costaguana," he trumpeted, holding aloft the keys to Casa Moreno. "I am here to deliver these keys—the keys to your homes and liberty—to your chosen president. Shall I deliver them to Enrico, Olivarra's assassin, or to his son?"

"Olivarra! Olivarra!" the crowd

Many Women Now Doing Without False Hair.

Rats and other false paraphernalia for the upbuilding of woman's thinned out hair may be necessary, but the sight is far from pleasing.

With care nature can supply to most women all the hair necessary for attractive dressing.

Many thousands of women, refined and educated, have learned that it is not hard to have, and to keep an abundance of lustrous hair, if Parisian Sage the hair grower is used daily.

Since its introduction into America, Parisian Sage has become a prime favorite with women who desire luxuriant hair that will not fall out or turn gray, used daily it will keep the scalp immaculately clean; will stop itching and falling hair, and remove every particle of dandruff.

It causes the hair to grow because it is able to penetrate into the roots, where it besides nourishing the hair, destroys the dandruff germs. F. B. Johnson & Co. and druggists everywhere guarantee Parisian Sage to do exactly as advertised, or money back. A large bottle only costs 50 cents, and it is a most invigorating and refreshing hair dressing. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

shrieked and howled. All vociferated the magic name—men, women, children and the parrots.

And the enthusiasm was not confined to the blood of the plebs. Colonel Rocas ascended the steps and laid his sword theatrically at Young Ramon Olivarra's feet. Four members of the cabinet embraced him. Captain Cruz gave a command and twenty of El Ciento Hurlando dismounted and arranged themselves in a cordon about the steps of Casa Moreno.

But Ramon Olivarra seized that moment to prove himself a born genius and politician. He waved those soldiers aside, and descended the steps to the street. There, without losing his dignity or the distinguished elegance that the loss of his red hair brought him, he took the proletariat to his bosom—the barefooted, the dirty, Indians, Caribs, babies, beggars, old, young, saints, soldiers and sinners—he missed none of them.

While this act of the drama was being produced the scene-shifters had been busy at the duties assigned them. Two of Cruz's dragoons had seized the bridle reins of President Zarilla's horses, others formed a close guard, and they galloped off with the tyrant and his two malodorous ministers. No doubt a place had been prepared for them. There are quite a number of well-barred stone apartments in Puerto Rey.

"Rouge wins," said Mr. Vincenti, calmly lighting another cigar. Captain Cronin had been intently watching the vicinity of the steps for some time.

"Good boy!" he exclaimed, suddenly, as if relieved. "I was wondering if he was going to forget his Kathleen Mavourneen."

Young Olivarra had reascended the steps and spoken a few words to General Pilar. That distinguished veteran descended to the walk and approached Pasa, who still stood, calm and wonder-eyed, where Dicky had left her. With his hat in his hand, and his medals and decorations shining on his breast, the general gave her his arm, and they went up the steps together. And then Ramon Olivarra stepped forward and took both her hands before all the people.

And while the cheering was breaking out afresh everywhere Captain Cronin and Mr. Vincenti turned and walked back toward the landing where the ship's gig was waiting for them.

"There'll be another presidente proclaimed in the morning," said Vincenti, musingly. "As a rule, they are not as reliable as the elected ones. But this youngster seems to have good stuff in him. He planned and maneuvered the whole campaign. Olivarra's widow, you know, was wealthy. She gave the boy eight years of the best education in the states. The company hunted him up and backed him in the little game."

"It's a glorious thing," said Cronin, half jestingly, "to be able to discharge a government and insert one of your own choosing, these days."

"It's business," stated Vincenti, stopping to offer his cigar to a monkey swinging from a lime tree; "and that is what moves the world of today. That extra real on the price of bananas had to go. We took the quickest way of removing it."

When She Hit the Mark. Bobbits—I've always kept my eyes open, but I've never seen a woman throw anything straight.

Collister—That's because you have never been fortunate enough to see her throw a kiss.

Nothing Left. "The English government cannot even terrorize the suffragettes by putting them in irons."

"Why wouldn't they mind that?" "It would be nothing to them after the hobble skirts."

HANNIBAL, MO., HUMORIST

Missouri Will Join With City Where He Passed His Boyhood to Add to Nation's Tributes.

By ROBERTUS LOVE.

It was Jesus of Nazareth who said in an age when prophets were many, "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own house." In all reverence it may be averred that the reservation contained in the last clause of this saying is not applicable to Mark Twain. Here was a prophet with honor not only throughout the world, but to a far more intensified degree in his own country and in his own house. Even in the house where he lived in boyhood and in the town and state which may be called "his own country" Mark Twain was not without honor during his lifetime, and now that he has passed from earth as a living presence his memory is to be honored and perpetuated in tangible form.

The state of Missouri and the city of Hannibal, which lies upon the Missouri bank of the mighty Mississippi, are joining hands just now to do honor to their prophet, who once good naturedly resented the characterization of "the first Missourian" on the ground that he was "not so old as all that." Even without such tangible evidences of the former residence of Mark Twain in Hannibal's midst, the city where he spent his boyhood, which is the scene of many episodes in his most famous books and which he loved as a father loves a child, will be always a Mecca for the pilgrims who elect to worship at the shrine of the creator of Tom Sawyer, Injun Jo, Huckleberry Finn and other fictional characters who are almost as much alive as is little Tommy Tucker around the corner from your home or the boy who delivers your beefsteak at the back door.

State May Build Monument.

Frank Sosey, member of the Missouri legislature from Marion county, in which Mark Twain was born, has introduced a bill to appropriate $10,000 same Mississippi river and others abutting other American streams. But to the Hannibal resident there is only one Lovers' Leap, and that is the ragged, jagged, rocky, but precipitous and picturesque bluff that rises sharp and sheer 265 feet above the level of the river, with railroad trains thundering and factory machines whirling in the narrow strip below on the very bank of the stream.

This Hannibal Lovers' Leap is distinct from all the others. Each has its legend of the pretty Indian maiden and her dusky lover who hurled themselves from the edge of the bluff because pater or mater or both forbade the bans. Hannibal's leap is different because it is associated with Mark Twain's early life and with some of his most popular works.

Shrunk With Age.

The present writer well remembers the very last time Mark Twain visited his home, how the humorist lay in bed at his hotel in his white nightgown, smoking a black cigar and looking from his southern window through the matchless glory of a June morning down across the gorge of Bear creek to a certain bluff that jutted up from the river's edge. He gazed and gazed and was silent. Finally he said, slowly and with perfect pathos:

"I'm looking for Lovers' Leap, and I reckon that must be it; but, oh, how much smaller it is than it was when I was a boy."

Then he smoked and smoked and was silent. I stole softly out of his room. That was the only thing I ever stole in Hannibal, but I felt that I was justified.

And so it is this Lovers' Leap, the one that was beloved by Mark Twain through more than three score years of his wandering life, which is to be the arch and acme of the new Mark Twain park. This world man, who with her 22,642 inhabitants—10,000 more than she had in 1900—wants the cave to be named for Mark Twain, so we might just as well yield to the inevitable.

As a matter of fact, Hannibal is becoming more and more Mark Twained as the years pass. The shanty house where lived the original of Huckleberry Finn was burned down shortly after the June of 1902, when Mark Twain made his final pilgrimage there. But there remain still several claimants to the honor—if it be that—of being the original of Huck. Hannibal also is full of the original Tom Sawyer, though Mark Twain himself once guardedly admitted that he was Tom. There is also, or was a few years ago, one "original" of Injun Jo, who charged me 50 cents for the privilege of photographing him with his hat on and a dollar with his hat off. He made a handsome income for many years as the original of Injun Jo. It was not Mark Twain, but another great American humorist, who remarked that the American people like to be humbugged.

Mark Twain's Narrow Escape.

On that last visit to Hannibal Mark Twain was nearly killed by the people—with kindness. Living on one square meal a day to ward off his ancient enemy, dyspepsia, he was invited to about twenty breakfasts, luncheons and dinners daily during the week he spent there. He found it necessary, in order to preserve his life a few years longer, to appoint several gastronomical proxies. One of his understudies in this line, I can assure the good housewives of Hannibal, was founded for ten days afterward and really never yet has quite regained the joyful appetite he possessed in earlier youth.

Hannibal, in truth, is the home of good cooks and generous hospitality. Judge Sydney J. Roy, secretary and literary light of the Commercial club, has written: "It is a city of 'homes.' People 'live' rather than reside or board in this river metropolis." Commercially growing by leaps and bounds, proud of her shoe factories and her cement works and railroad shops, Hannibal's champion leap always will be Lovers' Leap, and her bounds will be set only by the fame of her most famous citizen, who moved in as a boy and went back as an old man after he had made himself world noted under an assumed name. It was something worth while to hear those old fellows calling him Sam, and I verily believe that until that last pathetic visit "home" he had forgotten that his real name was Clemens.

KAISER SPOILED HIS TRADE.

Wanted Only Auto Horn In Existence Like Sample.

An orchestral instrument maker of Markneukirchen, in Saxony, has discovered that the patronage of the German emperor is not an unmixt blessing. Three years ago he invented an automobile horn which sounded four notes. The first one he finished in pure silver and presented to the kaiser.

The kaiser was so delighted with the new instrument that he gave immediate orders forbidding anybody else to have one like it. The inventor found this compliment too much of a business drawback to enjoy for more than a very brief spell.

For the last three years he has been doing his utmost to get permission to manufacture the instrument for the general public. He has just succeeded in securing a special decree from the federal council of the empire whereby motor horns of four notes may be employed by motorists when touring in the country, but it continues to constitute a misdemeanor to use such a horn in towns or cities, where it will remain the exclusive privilege of the kaiser.

The king of Saxony recently outbid the emperor by ordering the Markneukirchen manufacturer to construct for him a horn with six notes. Princess August Wilhelm, one of the kaiser's daughters-in-law, has a motor horn which performs a melodious theme.

for the erection of a monument to the humorist and philosopher in Hannibal. There was also on foot until recently a movement to have the state purchase the boyhood home of Mark Twain on Hill street, Hannibal, but the local committee having that matter in charge has decided that, inasmuch as the house is not a property of any considerable real estate value, the people of Hannibal themselves should take care of that and preserve it, letting the state's share be the memorial provided for in Mr. Sosey's bill.

Just what form this memorial will take is as yet a matter to be considered, though the sentiment seems to favor a monument, with a statue of the white haired author, to be placed either in the small city park in Hannibal or in the new Mark Twain park which is to be created by the city.

The Commercial club of Hannibal has just acquired by purchase eighteen acres of land, which includes the famous Lovers' Leap and about half a mile of the picturesque bluffs rising above the Mississippi just south of the city. This tract is to be deeded to the city and to be held perpetually for park purposes. Now, there are lovers' leaps and lovers' leaps. Personally I know of several along this had sailed every sea and steamboated every river of consequence, said that in his opinion there is no finer river view in the world than that which is to be enjoyed from the top of Lovers' Leap or from Inspiration point, a similar height just north of Hannibal. While no doubt the Hannibal people have their own preference as to the location of the Mark Twain monument, may not one suggest that it be placed on the summit of Lovers' Leap, facing the river he knew and loved so well and whose fame he has made immortal in his book which may be called the biography of the Mississippi?

Down to Mark Twain's Cave.

You pass beneath Lovers' Leap when you drive or trudge down the yellow, dusty road to Mark Twain's cave. People used to call it Tom Sawyer's cave, because it was in that remarkable freak of nature, a narrow passage a mile long underground, with "pockets" where one easily might get lost, that Tom Sawyer and his tiny sweetheart were imprisoned for days, while all of Hannibal, at that time only a matter of a thousand population or so, hunted high and low for them. Hannibal of today, however,

CONGRESS HAS CLOSED DOORS

Sixty-First Session Expired At Neon Today.

SPECIAL SESSION ASSURED

When the Knell Was Sounded on the President's Canadian Reciprocity
Program It Meant That the Sixty-Second Congress Would Be Called In Special Session to Take Up and Consider Rejected Measure.

Washington, March 4.—The Sixty-first congress expired by limitation today at noon, and a special session of the Sixty-second congress to convene March 15 is the next thing on the bill.

The senate practically disposed of all of the appropriation bills yesterday so far as the legislative work on them was concerned. When the senate met at 10 o'clock in the morning the sundry civil bill was taken up. From that the senate passed promptly to the navy appropriation bill and later passed the postoffice bill. The three were expected to take up most of the closing hours of the senate and to lead to long debate. When the senate completed the postoffice bill at 7 o'clock last evening a recess was taken until 9 o'clock with the expectation that at that time the general deficiency bill would be considered and the apportionment bill reported by Senator La Follette.

At the evening session the senate passed the general deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the general appropriation bills. An amendment to pay Senator Lorimer $25,000 to reimburse him for expenses in defending his title to his seat was stricken out of the bill on Senator Lorimer's motion.

The vice president ruled that the reciprocity bill could not be offered as an amendment to the tariff board bill under the unanimous consent agreement to vote today, which precluded further amendment, and rendered certain the calling of a special session to take up the reciprocity question.

Opposition in the senate to the bill authorizing a reapportionment of congressional districts based on the present census destroyed all prospects of passing the bill. The senate remained in session until after 1 o'clock this morning. The last two hours were devoted to passing bills on the calendar.
The session closed with an executive session and the senate adjourning to meet at 8 o'clock this morning.

With its calendar practically cleared and appropriation bills well on their way so far as the lower branch was concerned, the house last night listened to speeches while it waited for bills from the senate. The house is always in a playful mood in the closing hours of a session, and its members gave full vent to their joyfulness.

A BUSY SESSION

Something Indicative of the Activity of Late Congress.

Washington, March 4.—A total of 437 public bills have been enacted at the session of congress which terminated at noon today. In addition congress has enacted into law 234 private bills, but this total includes the omnibus pension bills and really the total of private measures enacted is between 12,000 and 13,000. Besides, sixty-three house resolutions and three private resolutions have been finally approved.

The 391 members of the house introduced during the three months of this short session 33,001 public bills, 295 house joint resolutions and sixty-five house concurrent resolutions.

The various committees of the house favorably reported for enactment 13,000 public and private bills.

Left All to Sister
New York, March 4.—The will of David Graham Phillips, which has just been filed, is very brief. It simply says: "I hereby make my sister, Carolyn Trevett, sole and absolute heir to all my property of whatever kind of which I may die possessed, and appoint her my sole executor."

Girl Elopes Via Window.
Joliet, Ill., March 4.—Fifteen-year-old Lydia Knott eloped with Fred Schwartz, twenty-six years old, by the window route. She climbed down from the second story and the family knew nothing about it until morning.

BROUGHTON BRANDENBURG

Magazine Writer Sentenced to Prison on a Charge of Forgery.

New York, March 4.—Broughton Brandenburg, author and war correspondent, convicted of forgery in the second degree before Judge Swain in general sessions, was sentenced to not less than two years and not more than four years and six months at hard labor in Sing Sing prison.

BARON PATERNO HAD MIGHTY BAD RECORD

Murderer of Princess Trigona
An All Around Crook.

Rome, March 4.—The newspapers publish sensational details of the relations between Princess Trigona and Baron Paterno, which led up to the murder of the former and the latter's attempted suicide in a third-rate hotel here. Notwithstanding that the baron was a cavalry lieutenant he was a card sharp. He habitually blackmailed ladies of the aristocracy with whom he had relations. It has been ascertained that he forced Princess Trigona to give him money, and he publicly bragged that she was his mistress. He threatened repeatedly to kill her.
During the last court ball he went to the Quirinal, where the princess was a guest, and made a scene.

It is understood that the murder was a consequence of the refusal of the princess to give him $4,000 from the proceeds of the sale of her landed property. The princess made repeated efforts to rid herself of her obnoxious lover, but these were fruitless, despite the assistance of lawyers who strived to hush up the scandal.

The baron's condition has improved and it is stated that his recovery is now certain. The tragedy is thus bound to have a sequel in a long, sensational trial, and the baron's expulsion from the army. He belongs to the Third Royal Piedmont cavalry, one of the smartest regiments of Italy.

THANKS OF CONGRESS

Extended to Robert E. Peary Together With Advance in Rank.

Washington, March 4.—Civil Engineer Robert E. Peary received his long deferred reward when by a vote of 154 to 31 the house passed a senate bill which proposes to retire Peary with the rank and pay of a rear admiral and to extend to him the thanks of congress. Very few persons have received the latter honor. A hasty perusal of the records by several members of congress brought to light the names of only twenty-six men who had been formally thanked by congress.

BOXER RISING

Chinese Placards Advise Extermination of Foreigners Over There.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—Recurrent reports of a threatened anti-foreign rising in China, which have become more frequent since the plague appeared in that country, reappear in telegrams from Mukden and Vladivostok.
They state that proclamations have been issued advising the extermination of Europeans. A boxer uprising is expected by the foreign newspapers. All the European governments will send troops to protect their subjects.

Bank Robbers at Windfall.
Windfall, Ind., March 4.—Burglars entered the People's bank, blew off the outer doors of the safe and obtained about $500 in silver and $450 worth of postage stamps left by the postmaster for safe keeping. They were unable to get into the inner vault, which contained about $4,500 in currency.

Receiver Is Demanded.
Galesburg, Ill., March 4.—Indiana creditors of the Alexander King Stone company of this city have applied for the appointment of a receiver. The company has indebtedness of $116,000 and capital stock of $43,000.

CAUCUS TOOK A DECISIVE HAND

Finally Settled Legislative Apportionment Dispute.

THE DISTRICTS AS MADE UP

After Much Discussion in Committee
the Caucus Was Called on For Help Out and Congressional and Legislative Districts Were Decided On—Few Changes Were Made in the Congressional Districts.

Indianapolis, March 4.—The legislative and congressional apportionment bills have been subjects of much dispute. There have been many wrangles in committee over these measures, the question of boundaries furnishing an apparently never-ending source of dissension. Finally the matter was put up to the majority caucus and out of the confusion came the following order:

Marion county shall elect five senators; Vanderburg, one; Vanderburg, Warrick and Dubois, one; Posey and Gibson, one; Knox and Greene, one; Davess, Martin and Pike, one; Spencer, Perry and Crawford, one; Lawrence and Jackson, one; Clark, Washington and Orange, one; Floyd and nings and Scott, one; Dearborn, Ohio, Switzerland and Jefferson, one;

Franklin, Fayette and Rush, one; Bartholomew and Shelby, one; Wayne and Union, one; Madison, one; Madison, Hancock and Hamilton, one;
Johnson, Brown and Monroe, one;
Hendricks, Morgan and Owen, one;
Sullivan and Clay, one; Fountain and Parke, one; Vigo, one; Vigo and Ver-million, one; Montgomery and Putnam, one; Boone and Clinton, one;
Tippecanoe and Warren, one; Carroll, White, Benton and Newton, one; Cass and Pulaski, one; Miami and Fulton, one; Howard and Tipton, one; Grant,
one; Grant, Blackford and Wells, one; Delaware, one; Henry and Randolph, one; Adams and Jay, one; Huntington and Whitley, one; Allen, one; Allen and DeKalb, one; Noble, Lagrange and Steuben, one; Kosciusko and Wabash, one; Elkhart, one; St. Joseph, one; St. Joseph and Marshall, one;
Laporte and Starke, one; Lake, one;
Lake, Porter and Jasper, one.

Representative Districts.

The representatives shall be apportioned among the several counties as follows:

Marion, ten; Allen, three; Allen and Adams, one; Vigo, three; Vigo and Vermillion, one; St. Joseph, three; Vanderburg, three; Lake, two; Lake and Newton, one; Madison, two;
Madison and Tipton, one; Grant, two;
Grant, Blackford and Miami, one; Delaware, two; Bartholomew, one; Boone, one; Cass, one; Clark, one; Clay, one; Clinton, one; Davess, one; DeKalb, one; Elkhart, one; Floyd, one; Fountain, one; Gibson, one; Greene, one; Hamilton, one; Hancock, one; Hendricks, one; Henry, one; Howard, one; Huntington, one; Jackson, one; Jay,
one; Johnson, one; Knox, one; Kosciusko, one; Laporte, one; Lawrence, one; Marshall, one; Miami, one; Montgomery, one; Noble, one; Parke, one; Posey, one; Randolph, one; Rush, one; Shelby and Sullivan, one; Tippecanoe, one; Wabash, one; Wayne, one; Wells, one; Benton and White, one; Brown and Monroe, one; Cass and Carroll, one; Clay, Greene and Martin, one; Crawford and Washington, one; Dearborn and Ohio, one; Decatur and Jennings, one; Dubois and Orange, one; Elkhart and Kosciusko, one; Franklin and Union, one; Floyd and Harrison, one; Fulton and Pulaski, one; Gibson and Warrick, one; Huntington and Whitley, one; Jasper and Porter, one; Jefferson and Scott, one; Knox, Pike and Sullivan, one; Lagrange and Steuben, one; Laporte and Starke, one; Morgan and Owen, one; Putnam, one; Perry and Spencer, one; Ripley and Switzerland, one; Tippecanoe and Warren, one;
Wayne and Fayette, one.

Congressional Changes.

The caucus changes in the present congressional districts are as follows:
Lawrence county, removed from the Second and placed in the Third district.

Decatur county, removed from the Sixth and placed in the Fourth district.

Laporte county, removed from the Tenth and placed in the Thirteenth district.

Morgan county, removed from the Fifth and placed in the Second district.

Pulaski county, taken from the Thirteenth and placed in the Eleventh district.

The conference committee on the county option repeal bill struck out the Hammond amendment, tacked on in the house, making that part of a township outside of a city or town remain dry until voted wet. This amendment invalidated the entire bill, as it discriminated against all other territory now dry, but going wet automatically under the bill.

The Proctor regulative and restrictive measure went to the governor almost in the same form that it passed the house. Only two changes of any consequence were made by the conference committee, and both branches accepted the report of the committee without a murmur.

STUBBS, HIT BY I. & C. CAR, DIES

county. It was there he spent his boyhood, and from there he enlisted for service in the civil war. He graduated from the Cincinnati Law School at an early age and went to Indianapolis to practice law soon after the war.

Long before he entered actively into politics he had attracted considerable attention in the profession of law. He took active part in all civic movements for the benefit of the city and was an enthusiastic member of the G. A. R.

In June, 1893, during the administration of Caleb S. Denny as mayor, Judge Stubbs was elected judge of the Indianapolis police court by the Republicans. In November, 1895, he was elected for another term and he was elected again in November, 1901.

During the continuous and relentless grind of police court, Judge Stubbs observed that it was no place to try the cases of little children who had been accused of wrongdoing. Finally Judge Stubbs and James A. Collins, then the prosecutor in his court, organized a little court, separate from the police court room, and heard juvenile cases there every Saturday afternoon. This plan helped conditions a great deal, but not yet satisfactory, as the work grew enormously.

By the time the Indiana Legislature had met in 1903, Judge Stubbs had formed a plan for a law organizing and maintaining juvenile courts in Indianapolis and other large cities of the State. He saw clearly that dealing with children through a court organized for their especial benefit was the only sensible and moral way of coping with the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Meanwhile Judge Stubbs had resigned as judge of police court, and a petition was prepared asking the Governor to appoint him judge of the new juvenile court. The petition was signed by a large number of representative citizens of Marion county.

While doing good for the children Judge Stubbs made some enemies among lawyers and politicians, on whom he "sat down" when they attempted to play tricks or quibble with the law in his court. Judge Stubbs did not always observe the strict rules of evidence in hearing testimony concerning children, but necessarily admitted much hearsay testimony furnished by probation officers who investigated the surroundings of every delinquent child and the circumstances of his trouble.

At the next general election in 1904 a bitter fight was made against Judge Stubbs in his own party against his re-nomination and he was almost defeated by James A. Pritchard, who later became judge of the criminal court. But he was nominated and re-elected.

While Judge Stubbs presided over the Marion juvenile court it was visited and studied by some of the most noted students of juvenile laws of the United States and Europe. Judge Stubbs was frequently called on the lecture platform to tell about the success of the Marion county court, and he greatly assisted in making the new idea popular all over the country. Judge Stubbs worked under many difficulties. He had the use of only one hand, the other having been shot off as the result of a hunting accident. He was almost totally deaf in his left ear and heard testimony with difficulty. In spite of this, he did a great deal of writing and mastered the testimony so thoroughly that he was rarely in need of correction.

Judge Stubbs was a very close friend of Dr. V. W. Tevis. It was with great regret that he received the news of his demise. Dr. Tevis agrees with the general public that the venerable jurist stands out prominently as one of the greatest men Indiana ever produced, on account of ever present interest in the children of the State who determine the trend of future generations.

The unexpired term of Judge Stubbs will be filled by an appointee of Governor Marshall. The act creating the Juvenile Court in Marion County does not directly provide for a successor in case of the death of the judge thereof, but refers to the appointment of judges pro tem for the same causes as in the Circuit or Superior Courts. An act relating to Circuit Courts gives the Governor the power to appoint a successor to fill the unexpired term of circuit court judges. The judge of the Juvenile Court must be a legal voter of the State, at least 40 years old and a father.

LOCAL NEWS

Scarlet fever has been reported in the family of John Boyer, south of the city.

Oral, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley H. Forsythe is ill with appendicitis at his home in West Third street.

The Salvation Army revival meetings will continue until Sunday night. So far there has been fifteen conversions. Envoy and Mr. G. Gilson of Morristown will address the meetings Sunday.

Charley Sweet landed one of the largest orders for cemetery fence in the county, by getting an order from the trustees of Center cemetery for an iron fence around two sides of the Center cemetery, near Mays. Mr. Sweet figured against five other ornamental fence companies and consequently he is proud of his success. The fence will be put up in about ten days.

WILL NOT CLOSE SCHOOLS

Moscow Has But One Case of Scarlet Fever.

The schools in Moscow will not be closed on account of the scarlet fever scare. It is said that no fear need be expressed as so far there is but one case, that being Theodore Hurst, living south of Moscow. There is no epidemic of the disease and it is thought that no farther trouble will arise. The lack of attendance in the schools is accounted for because the parents were afraid to send their children because they thought perhaps the disease might spread.
